Allied Troops Seize Two More Hills In Korea

Fresh Outbreak Of Air Fighting Also Occurs In War Zone

By CECIL BROWNLOW
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Oct. 1.—Allied troops seized two more hills in east-central Korea today and American pilots hit four Red jets in a fresh outbreak of air fighting involving 67 planes.

One Russian-type MIG jet was shot down and three others damaged over north-west Korea by Sabrejet flyers.

The American jets suffered no damage but the Eighth Air Force admitted tonight that 14 Allied planes were lost during September. These included one Sabre, one Thunderbolt and one F-51 propeller-driven craft shot down by Red flyers.

On the ground, ROK (Republic of Korea) infantrymen captured the third crest of an elevation west of "Heartbreak Ridge" Monday after a hand-to-hand battle in the east-central sector.

Koreans Forced To Flee
A dispatch by International News Service Correspondent Rafael Steinberg from that sector (Continued on Page Two)

Daylight savings time made its exit early Sunday morning with little trouble experienced by local residents in the changeover. In fact, Sunday school and church attendances benefitted as worshippers looked refreshed after their extra hour's sleep, and attendances were above normal.

It is expected that the new bridge erected over the Little Ne-shannoek near Wilmington Junction will be officially opened by the state this week and unrestricted traffic permitted over the new span. It replaces a covered bridge torn down due to its antiquity and inability to hold present day traffic.

Another pleasant Sunday for touring, one of the few remaining now, was enjoyed by many local motorists yesterday. Trips into wooded areas proved quite profitable as the leaves and foliage are mid-way between their summer green and fall coating of varied hues.

Residents who have tomatoes on the vines not yet touched by frost, can have ripe tomatoes for Thanksgiving if they take the right steps. Several mature green tomatoes should be cut open and the inner structure examined. If it looks fully developed, the remaining tomatoes should be put in a darkened room of about 50 degrees temperature and the tomatoes will be ripened by Thanksgiving, local agricultural authorities report.

Lights burned in most churches of the district Sunday evening indicating that fall Sunday programs of most churches are under way. Only a few churches are not having Sunday night programs.

U.N. Council To Attempt Iranian Oil Settlement

(BULLETIN)
FLUSHING MEADOW, N. Y., Oct. 1.—(INS)—British U.N. Delegate Sir Gladys Jebb informed U.S. Ambassador Ernest A. Gross today that Britain has ordered the evacuation by Wednesday morning of the British oil men in Iran.

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

FLUSHING MEADOW, N. Y., Oct. 1.—The United Nations security council will attempt today to find a compromise solution to the ominous Iranian oil dispute. The United States mapped a mediator's role, seeking an agreement "which will do justice" to Iran and Britain.

To Act On British Resolution

When the council opens its meeting at 3 p.m. EST it will act specifically on a British resolution calling on Iran to abide by a ruling of the international court of justice, handed down on July 5. The court urged the Iranian government to permit Britain to continue operations of the Anglo-Iranian Oil company facilities pending settlement of the nationalization dispute.

Britain also requested that Iran (Continued on Page Two)

Token Force Of Legislators To Gather Today

Await Decision On Senate Proposal For Long Recess

By JOHN PAGET
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 1.—A corporal's guard of general assemblymen will return to the state capitol today to await a house decision on a senate proposal to lock legislative doors until December 10.

Failure of Gov. John S. Fine's legislative forces to rout a small band of 10 Republican senators opposing the controversial flat income tax sparked the recess move.

To Make Decision

The powerful house rules committee, headed by majority leader Charles C. Smith, will decide whether to go along with the recess idea. An agreement is anticipated.

A 12-day session in December is the goal of GOP leaders who support the income tax bill, already approved by the house, and hope to wear down opposition in the ranks to the proposal.

Only a token force of assemblymen will be on hand in each house today and no major legislative business will be transacted although working calendars are jammed with bills.

New York City Baseball Crazy

Giants And Dodgers Settling First Place

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—The city of New York, population 8,000,000, was wracked by a virulent baseball fever today as the Brooklyn Dodgers and the New York Giants set themselves for a dramatic play-off for the National league pennant.

The seething baseball ferment had all New York in a wild frenzy, and the rest of the nation was not far behind. Normal business took on secondary importance. The main topic of conversation was "the Bums" and "the Giants" and nothing else seemed to matter.

Game Sell-Out

Frenzied fans converged on Ebbets field, Brooklyn, this morning, trying to get in to see the first of a "two-out-of-three game play-off." By 10:30 a. m. Brooklyn club officials estimated that already 15,000 fans had surrounded the Dodger park ticket windows.

The opening game was a sell-out. Ralph Branca (13-10), a husky righthander, is scheduled to pitch for Brooklyn against Jim Hearn (16-9), another big righthander, for the Giants. The winner of the "play-off" will face the New York Yankees, the American league champions, in the 1951 world series.

New Record For Births In Month

A record number of births—155 in all—was reported at the James Memorial hospital for the month of September.

This number breaks the former record of 150 set at the hospital in December, 1946. A Sunday total of 11 put the September births over the top.

Of the babies born at the hospital last month, 81 were girls and 74 boys. There were two sets of twins.

First Light Frost Occurs On Sunday

Residents living in the outlying sections of the county reported the first light frost of the season, Sunday morning.

The official low temperature here was 34 degrees, but in some sections it was several degrees colder and frost was very evident. One resident of the Princeton district reported that ice froze on the windshield of his auto during the No precipitation.

It was much warmer this morning, however, and no frost is indicated for tonight.

The late fall has been a boon to those who still have tomatoes and other tender vegetables, which have not fully developed. Those who have put in new lawns have also benefited.

Find River In Harlansburg Caverns

In the Natural Caverns at Harlansburg, guide, Howard Owens, checks the temperature of a newly discovered subterranean river deep beneath the hills of Lawrence county. The white formation on the wall across from Mr. Owens is called "flow stone" and is a milky-white crystal formation that is deposited on the cavern walls during the countless ages that water has seeped through the rocks. At the time three young men were lost in the caverns a year ago, it was this formation that caused rumors that the walls were coated with ice.

"The River Styx" would be a logical name for the new river discovered in the Harlansburg Natural Caverns by a group of Speleologists on Sunday. The river, located in territory never before seen by man, has many of the qualifications of the river of mythology fame.

Coming from nowhere and apparently going nowhere, the large river of ice cold water is crystal clear. So clear that the bottom is easily seen and it appears there is no water there, unless it is disturbed or the light from one of the carbide lamps reflects off of its surface.

Difficult Trip

Going to the portion of caves where the river was found was about the worst trip the Speleologists from the Cleveland area along with their guide, Howard Owens of Harlansburg, have ever attempted to make. There is more mud in the new section of cavern than any other explored part. Mud of every type and description known to man and some that wasn't known.

The Speleologists discovered many types of fossil and limestone formations in the new section of the caves. Crinoids, Brachiopods and Trilobites, forms of pre-historic marine life, abounded. Petrified or fossilized trees that are thousands of centuries old. Some of the wood found hadn't had the right atmosphere or conditions as it had not fossilized but was turning into coal.

One particular type of tree of which the fossil was found, is known to have existed during the time of dinosaurs and other now extinct reptiles roamed the earth. (Continued on Page Two)

Large Turnout On Rally Day

Big Increases In Attendance Reported

Churches and Sunday schools in every quarter of New Castle and Lawrence county report the most successful rally day effort ever conducted in their schools on Sunday, Sept. 30.

Although the total figures for attendance have not been tallied as yet, it is believed that the attendance for Sunday will soar above any previous rally day totals set in recent years.

Large Increases

Most schools of those checked reported an increase of 25 to 100 in attendance on Sunday, proving what a little concentrated effort will do when Sunday school teachers and officers begin programs of visitation and inaugurate other plans to stimulate attendance.

Both Paul D. Weller of the New Castle superintendent's council and William Hedegore, president of the County Sabbath School association are pleased with the attendance records set on Sunday.

The city and county Sunday school officers express their deep appreciation to all who had a part in the effort in its promotion.

Governors Are In Conference

Annual Assembly Is Being Held At Gatlinburg, Tenn

By WILLIAM THEIS

GATLINBURG, Tenn., Oct. 1.—Presidential candidate talk dominated by the name of Gen. Eisenhower gave way to a sober discussion of defense mobilization today at the 43rd annual governors' conference.

Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois called upon the governors to give "spirited and positive leadership" to the current national effort.

He presided at a panel discussion attended by Gen. George C. Marshall, retired defense secretary, defense mobilizer Charles E. Wilson, and civil defense administrator Millard Caldwell.

Luft And Judy Garland In Hollywood Melee

By LEE FERRERO
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 1.—Producer Sidney Luft faces arraignment on a drunk-in-auto charge today after Hollywood's latest brawl in which he and his sweetheart, singer Judy Garland, won a couple of "one-punch decisions" over two ordinary citizens.

The latest filmland melee came hard on the heels of the now-celebrated Franchot Tone-Tom Neal brawl over the affections of bosomy Barbara Payton.

Early Sunday Morning

Authorities said the newest Hollywood fight occurred early Sunday morning in a swang Hollywood nightclub area and stemmed from a three-car collision.

Traffic officer J. C. Kilbane said Luft hit a car driven by Allan G. Thompson, 17, of Glendale, Calif., (Continued on Page Two)

Indiana Bank Employee Can't Secure Bond

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 1.—(INS)—Samuel P. Lewis, 62-year-old Indiana, Pa., assistant bank cashier, seemed set today for a long stay in Allegheny county jail because he can't raise $15,000 needed to free him until the federal grand jury acts on charges of embezzlement.

Lewis is accused of pilfering $48,479.39 from the First National Bank of Indiana, where he worked since 1911.

The FBI in Pittsburgh quoted Lewis as admitting the theft, but claimed that he repaid the funds prior to his arrest last Saturday. But the government agents claim there is a "mysterious disappearance" of $40,000 from the bank's reserves and that their investigation "is continuing."

During the last year seven persons have been arrested in the tri-state area near Pittsburgh on charges of stealing a total of nearly three million dollars from the banks which employed them.

Reds Continue To Delay Answer On Renewal Of Parley

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(Far Eastern Director, U. N. S.)

TOKYO, Oct. 2.—(Tuesday)—Generals Omar N. Bradley and Matthew B. Ridgway flew to the Korean front Monday and a United Nations broadcast said Allied forces are "prepared to strike" for victory on the battlefield.

Indicating a climax is nearing in the suspended armistice conference negotiations, a broadcast by the "Voice of the United Nations Command" said the Eighth U. S. Army will not "sit idle by" if the Reds delay a decision on the cease-fire issue much longer.

New Anti-American Threats
But ominous new anti-American threats came from Communist China and the top Chinese Red general called upon his troops to fight on for their motherland.

The United Nations broadcast—not an official statement by Ridgway's headquarters—declared "the whole issue of the resumption of the talks is one that cannot be hedged much longer."

It asserted that if the Reds (Continued on Page Eight)

Once again the talks were held outside the regular seat of the allied high commission in Bonn, this time at famed Roettgen castle, home of the month's chairman, British high commissioner Avon Kirkpatrick.

While details of the talks are expected to remain unannounced until preliminaries are completed and handed to a working, top item on today's agenda is believed to be a discussion of curbs the allies intend to retain upon conclusion of the contractual agreement.

U.N. COUNCIL TO ATTEMPT SETTLEMENT

be restrained from expelling 317 British technicians from the huge refinery at Abadan. The Britons have been ordered to leave by October 4.

To Present Britain's Case

Chief British delegate Sir Gladwyn Jebb, who flew to New York last night, will present Britain's case to the council, expanding on the British thesis that Iran's policies threaten to cause "irreparable damage" to the oil facilities, endanger life and property and "cause distress to the area concerned."

Jebb on his arrival held conferences with British diplomats and American delegate Ernest A. Gross.

To Be Evacuated Wednesday

TEHRAN, Oct. 1.—(INS)—The Anglo-Iranian Oil company announced today that the 300-odd British oil technicians ordered expelled from Iran will be evacuated Wednesday morning.

The announcement said the Britons will board the British cruiser Mauritius and a destroyer Armada now anchored off Abadan in Iraqi waters. They will be taken to Basrah, Iraq, and then to England.

Meanwhile, Iranian Premier Mohammed Mossadeq, solidly backed by his parliament, prepared to wage a "fight against imperialism" in the U. N. security council.

The British press reported that the Shah of Iran's private plane—a Flying Fortress—was standing by, ready to fly the ailing premier to the United States.

Latest word in Tehran is that Mossadeq will wait several days to see whether the oil dispute with Britain is adjudged to come under the jurisdiction of the council.

and forced the latter's car into a third car driven by Charles T. Neale, 19, of San Marino, Calif.

Luft, Thompson and Neale gathered as motorists will anywhere to discuss "who pays the damage."

Words soon led to action, and eyewitnesses said that plump Miss Garland, just back from a triumphant tour of England, entered the fracas and hurled "a beauty of a right hand" into the face of Neale. Neale told officers:

"Swung At Me"

"Miss Garland swung at me and knocked my glasses off and broke them."

Luft eliminated his first-round opponent with a similar glass-smashing blow. Dr. Reuben Larson, a Hollywood dentist who saw the accident, said:

"I stopped to be a witness for the boys. Luft struck me once with a blow to my nose. He shattered one of the lenses in my glasses."

Both men pointed out they were hit while they had on their eyeglasses. Police said the agent-producer, Luft, admitted striking the dentist. Luft said:

"The only guy I belted was the one in the tux. I had a beer—well, maybe three. I can feel it, but I'm not drunk."

"Had To Go To Him"

A distraught Miss Garland, who has had her troubles in Hollywood, waived.

"I'm a human being and have emotions like anyone else although I'm an actress. When I saw him in trouble I had to go to him."

Miss Garland's attorney, Robert B. Agins, issued a statement saying the famed singer was blocked away when she heard the crash and was in "a highly emotional state" when she reached the scene.

Witnesses disagreed on details. Neale, a Pasadena City college student with a crew haircut, said Miss Garland left Luft's car immediately after the crash and returned five minutes later.

Neale said Judy punched him when he insisted Luft stay on the scene of the accident. The dentist said "I was popped in the nose" when he alighted from his car.

GOVERNORS ARE IN CONFERENCE

practical politics in the crisp autumn air of this great Smoky mountains resort.

A procession of five Republican governors quickly placed themselves in the Eisenhower-for-president camp. Gov. Sherman Adams of New Hampshire gave the "like" bandwagon a real shove by announcing the general's name definitely will be entered in his state's presidential primary next March.

Adams went a step further by predicting that the supreme European commander will not withdraw his name from this first of the 1952 presidential primaries. The general's name stays on the New Hampshire ballot if he remains silent and does not order it withdrawn after being notified that 100 voters have petitioned for its entry.

said tonight the "seesaw fighting" raged until a North Korean battalion was forced to flee north.

Other ROK troops meanwhile captured a height northwest of the "punchbowl" are in the same sector.

Along "Heartbreak Ridge" itself and in the central sector, Banzai-shouting Red troops struck anew at United Nations hills positions.

As the fighting increased in tempo, Generals Omar N. Bradley and Matthew B. Ridgway arrived in Korea from Tokyo by plane and immediately went to the front.

The chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the UN Supreme Commander conferred with Americans, South Korean, French and Dutch field officers who gave the generals first-hand accounts of the bitter battles that have raged in the east.

Launch Probing Thrusts

On that front, fanatical bands of North Korean Reds launched a new series of small-scale probing thrusts Sunday night against American and French infantrymen entrenched on the slopes of "Heartbreak Ridge."

All these attacks were beaten off in sharp firefights as rain and strong winds swept the east front, causing some damage to UN supplies but not a great deal, according to officers.

On the central front, Chinese Reds renewed their four-day Banzai assault on a towering hill Sunday after falling back from three previous attacks and leaving 1,466 counted dead behind.

Monday's air battle saw 40 Soviet-type MIG jets tangle with 27 F-86 Sabrejets over Sinanju, some 100 miles south of Manchuria's Yalu river border.

The spectacular dogfight raged for 25 minutes and swept down from altitudes of 30,000 feet to lowest ground level.

It was the first time in four days that the Communist jets had challenged Allied jets. The returning American Sabre flyers said the enemy pilots were "very aggressive."

FIND RIVER IN CAVERNS AT HARLANSBURG

This fossil of Mesozoic vegetation known as an Araucarias tree was abundant at that time until the Coal Age when it was destroyed and replaced by the Calamites tree of the Coal Age.

Small Type Bat Found

A small type bat was found hibernating in the caves this trip the first time bats have been found this summer. The bats mentioned are only two inches long. Their fur is soft, reddish brown on the back and white underneath. Peculiar features of these bats are their melodic squeak and translucent ears.

Brilliant red flow stones, stalactites and stalagmites and red and white "bacon strips" were also found. Several times during the trip the temperature in the Natural Caverns was recorded. The average room or chamber temperature was 55 degrees while the average temperature of the water was 49 degrees.

New Entrance Used

To enter the caves, the group used an entrance west of the one used by the boys who were lost in the caverns last year. They entered on one side of the Harlansburg road, went under the road and kept exploring in a northern direction.

Other Speleologists, or "Splunkers" as they have nick-named themselves, included in the group beside the guide, Howard Owens, were Howard Lowry, Robert Franks and William Franks, of Bedford, O.; Cecil Dobbins and Dave Robertson, of Lakeview, O.; Marvin Childs and Louis Sater, of Cleveland.

Howard Lowry was trying his hand at being a Speleologist for the first time. This was his first trip in any cave. William "Bill" Franks is 10 years of age and is following his father's (Robert) footsteps in becoming a cave explorer.

President Opens 1951 Community Chest Campaigns

President Harry S. Truman officially opened the 1951 Community Chest campaigns in the nation Sunday night with a talk over combined radio and television networks.

The president stressed the added responsibilities of Community Chests this year and said:

"Nothing can ever take the place of the good old-fashioned rule that neighbors should always help each other. That is the heart of the American ideal—people working together, sharing their joys and their sorrows, trying to make the world a better place to live in. That is what the Community Chest means to me. It is, I think, one of the finest developments of our time."

The Community Chest of New Castle and vicinity will open its 1951 campaign on Oct. 11, with a goal of $140,463.

Washington Cops Fox Hunt Winners

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—(INS) Their coats weren't pink; they followed no hounds; their mount burns gas, not hay, but a couple of Washington cops have a fox as a trophy today.

The fox, three feet long and weighing 25 pounds, made two mistakes. First it ventured into the urban reaches of the District of Columbia. Second, it tried to cross the street as the police car came along and was ignominiously killed by an ignominious weapon—a tire.

Policemen Edwin M. Bruce and Richard C. McCargar say they plan to have Reynard mounted.

Recipe for health

A prescription is a recipe for health. It represents a physician's scientific diagnosis and careful decision as to the best method of treating a particular illness. The responsibility imposed upon a physician in diagnosing illness and prescribing treatment is equal to the value given life. Second only to the responsibility of the physician is the responsibility of the pharmacist who compounds and dispenses the prescribed medication. This is a responsibility which we are well prepared to accept. We consider it a privilege to serve.

RACING FOR DESTRUCTIVE WEAPONS

Guided missiles are now a practical reality and the government has announced that a combat unit trained to use these new weapons will soon be formed.

Pictures of some of the missiles in flight show them to be similar in size and design to some of the smaller fighter planes. They are presumed to be limited in range, and at least the present ones may be used primarily to support ground troops at the front.

A guided missile is equipped with radar and radio controls with which it can be directed to a target where it can be exploded either on contact or later by remote control or time devices. At present the missile travels at a speed slow enough to make it vulnerable to interceptor planes, but greater speed and range may be later developments.

It is hinted that this "flying bomb" is so built that an atomic charge could be carried by it and exploded over any target within range. The idea of a pilotless plane flying to a city with a cargo of atomic death is especially frightening.

The world is divided into two camps, each racing desperately for the weapons of destruction which would bring superiority. We are fortunate that our technical knowledge and resources are such that we can continue to lead the Communists. A few years ago the idea of the guided missile seemed fantastic; now it may become a valuable addition to the arsenal of weapons on the strength of which we hope to preserve the democratic way of life.

FORRESTAL'S ESCALATORS

Aboard U. S. Navy aircraft carriers these days a prime subject of wardrobe and mess-hall chatter is the super carrier on the ways of Newport News, Va. Its great length (one-fifth mile), great cost ($250,000,000, maybe) and great potential as a mobile airfield for jet planes—these and other aspects are good for endless discussion and argument.

But it's safe to say nothing has served oftener to open these sessions than the topic of the escalators.

Escalators in a fighting ship? What for? That's easy. For pilots of fighter planes, and for pilots and crews of the larger jet bombers which the Forrestal will be able to handle on both flight and hangar decks.

When the squawk-boxes pass the command, "Pilots, man your planes!" they won't have to climb steep ladders with their heavy gear-like parachutes and belts of machine-gun ammunition. They'll just hop onto a moving stairway and right on up to the flight deck. The minutes saved could be important in launching a fighter squadron.

Stairway? That word is unknown aboard a naval ship. It is hard to imagine naval lingo accepting the term escalator, either. Hasn't that word too much connotation of tired female shoppers on their way to the big sale of sheets and pillowcases? Free of charge we herewith offer the Navy a new word. It is escaladder.

UNCRABBED AGE

William Shakespeare seems to have taken a dim view of old age. In the famous passage describing the seven ages of man, he says:

... Last scene of all,
That ends this strange, eventful history,
Is second childishness and mere oblivion,
Sans teeth, sans eyes, sans taste, sans everything.

But modern medical science takes a brighter view of the prospect. "Second childishness," it suggests, may not be inevitable even in extreme old age. This is borne out by the experience of most persons, who know men in their eighties, at least, who show no mental signs of senility.

But even centenarians need not necessarily show such deterioration, according to Dr. Daniel B. Schuster, famous psychiatrist, who addressed the Second International Gerontological Congress. In fact, he knows a man who is 106 who hasn't reached second childhood.

This man has an IQ of 106. He plays cards, drinks beer and smokes cigars in neighborhood taverns. He is interested in world events and active in lodges and other organizations. Dr. Schuster describes him as "amazingly alert."

Edward Van Duyn, of Rochester, N. Y., has three children still living, the oldest being 78. He has been a widower since 1902, but Dr. Schuster doesn't attribute his longevity to that.

Why does he show so few of Shakespeare's symptoms of old age? Dr. Schuster thinks his attitude toward life has a great deal to do with it. He has "emotional and intellectual resources" sufficient to cope with life's stresses (including the physical deterioration of old age) without becoming neurotic. He hasn't lost interest, so his mind hasn't fallen apart.

Futile Revolt In Argentina

The most formidable attempt thus far made to unseat the government of Argentina's President Juan Domingo Peron and his controversial blonde wife, Eva, has failed.

And in the wake of the abortive uprising is certain to follow a new flurry of discussion throughout the world.

Do the undoubtedly colorful Perons hold on to their following by mere strength of armed force? Or is the impression they have made upon the underprivileged and backward classes of Argentina a real and sincere one that guarantees a virtually indeterminate tenure of office?

The brief revolt whose collapse Peron announced so victoriously from the balcony of the presidential palace in Buenos Aires was far from unexpected.

Many factors contribute. Many factors, some of them apparently unconnected, contributed to the attempt of a group of army officers to turn out the once obscure colonel-president and his undeniably attractive wife, who rose from a film bit player and minor screen actress to a role of greatest importance.

One of these was a strong move by "Evita's" political supporters to put her up as vice-presidential candidate in the forthcoming elections, in which Peron will be a candidate to succeed himself as president.

There are reports, even from heavily-censored Buenos Aires, that this proposed candidacy aroused the resentment of influential army circles.

Highly Aristocratic Group
The Argentine army, like all those of Latin American nations, is a highly aristocratic group. Its officers look upon women with the highest degree of chivalry and active participation in politics is

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

A FEW HOME JOBS FOR JUNIOR

In this column I have so often and so strongly urged parents to require their children over six or seven to do some regular jobs about the home, that some of my readers tend to attempt to effect such requirements too early.

Perhaps I have not made clear that requirements, except for some routines, are not easily enforced in the average child under six or seven. He hardly has had sufficient earlier experience to enable him to profit from a penalty for failing to do an assigned job, especially if it is long and tedious.

Child Dawdles.
A mother writes of her son, 5½: "We give him chores to do once in a while, such as picking up papers from the driveway. He dawdles, taking as much as four or five hours to get it done, crying, making numerous excuses every 15 minutes, or trying to get his playmates to help him with the job."

I have recently begun to give him regular jobs, at the same time giving him a weekly allowance of five cents. He is supposed to carry out the garbage and dry silverware, pots and pans twice a day, also make his bed every day. These he does without too much argument or delay. The question is: Should he get the allowance even when he slips up on his work, and should he be allowed to use this money as he pleases?

In substance, I replied: Your purposes are excellent but you expect too much of that lad so young. Perhaps you or Dad should help him pick up the papers from the driveway. His winning his playmates to help him seems commendable to me.

Pretty Good Results
Though assignment of the regular jobs you name seems a bit early, you appear to be getting pretty good results. You imply that you do considerable urging and arguing to make him do the jobs and earn the reward, which he is sure to get anyway. It would be better to give him the nickel a week as an allowance not in connection with the jobs; otherwise, as he grows older, you will have increasing problems in causing him to really earn the larger portion of his money. He will be besides, the child paid for regular jobs about the home hardly gains the feeling of being a responsible, sharing member of the family. My bulletins, "Allowances" and "How To Teach Your Child To Help at Home" may be had in a stamped envelope sent me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y.

Wise Use of Money
Perhaps you should let him spend the nickel as he chooses. But if you can prevail on him to keep the nickel he receives, this week to put with the nickel he will receive next week in order to get something for a dime, you will have helped him make the most important step in using money wisely.

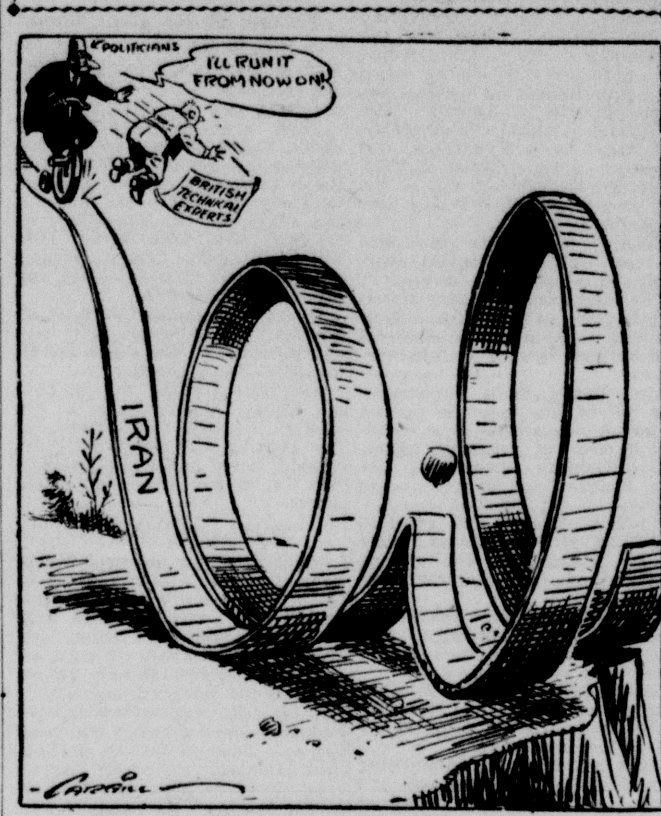

Unfortunately, most parents think of an allowance as mere pocket money. When the child is seven or eight, his allowance should be budgeted to include the few regular necessary expenditures he will have plus a small amount to do with as he pleases.

Measure your success at teaching him to help at home by the degree to which he does each regular job under his own supervision—without being reminded when to do it or urged to do it. To this end you might consider it wise to omit one or two of the jobs you have assigned him up to now. Most of all, aim to avoid arguing and jawing.

BICYCLE BUILT FOR TWO

Washington Calling

(By Marquis Childs)

Ambassador To India

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—In the good old days when sovereigns were sovereign, an ambassador was the personal messenger, intelligence agent, gift or insult bearer of the ruler. There was no nonsense about the advice and consent of anybody else in this highly personal relationship.

In the minor controversy over the nomination of Chester Bowles to be ambassador to India the curious in-between status of present-day ambassadors is apparent. Today's envoy is certainly not the personal messenger of the President. But at the same time his closest relation is with the Chief Executive and the secretary of state.

Should Have Been Consulted
Senator Alexander Smith of New Jersey, a Republican who tries conscientiously to take a responsible part in carrying out bipartisan foreign policy, believes the Senate foreign relations committee should have been consulted in advance about the naming of an ambassador to India. He says he has nothing against Bowles personally.

Need Able Representative
No one can dispute Smith on one point. That is the supreme importance of an able representative of the United States in New Delhi. In the current issue of Look, John Cowles points out that India is the last stronghold of democracy in Asia and adds: "We will be making a blunder almost as calamitous as the one we made in China if we don't support the Nehru government in India, even though we may be irritated over what we think are inconsistencies in Nehru's attitude."

Not Easy Task
To be ambassador to Nehru—and that is what it comes down to—is not easy. He is a brilliant and often temperamental genius who proved a resourceful leader in the long revolution against British rule.

One of the keenest observers in New Delhi told me when I was there a year ago that Nehru has a prejudice against civil servants. It will be no good, so this advice went, sending a career diplomat. You must, said this knowledgeable foreigner, send a distinguished citizen who can talk to the prime minister with some sense of equality.

In many respects it seems to me that Bowles meets this prescription.

Compulsory filming of all operations is being urged and we all look forward to the three-reel appendectomy with live commentary.

I don't know what will happen to daytime TV when the kidney kinescope in full color becomes popular.

But it will give us a switch on "Come up and see my 19-inch screen" which replaced "Come up and see my etchings."

I don't know why doctors are pressing for cameras in the operating room but it sure will give us a new opening every night.

Some doctors are filming their operations now and I understand the bill reads "Surgery, $300; Makeup $40; Kinescope $400."

But after some of the stuff we've seen on the home screen it would be a pleasure to sit back and watch a nice adenoid episode.

Great Game Of Politics

By FRANK R. KENT

The "Reuther" Movement

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1. In its latest issue The Union, which is published in Indianapolis and claims to be "the oldest labor newspaper in the United States," flat-footedly makes certain rather remarkable statements about the labor-boss domination of the so-called Americans for Democratic Action, which while rumored for a long time has not previously been given this kind of publicity.

Considering the nobility of its professed purposes, its proclaimed political independence and the high character of its president, Mr. Francis Biddle, Attorney General under the late Mr. Roosevelt, the charges made by The Union would seem to call for some kind of answer from the A.D.A. The chief of these is that the Americans for Democratic Action receive one third of their financial support directly from the unionist "United Labor Policy Committee" members Walter Reuther, James B. Carey, A. J. Hayes and Emile Rieve are all on the national board of the A.D.A.; that David Dubinsky, "the labor movement's foremost Socialist, is also on that board; that "with Dubinsky backing him, Reuther dominates the A.D.A. with an undisputed hand."

If these assertions are true, the widely proclaimed independence of the A.D.A. is a hollow sham and what it actually has become is the open political arm of the new labor crowd which follows Reuther and Carey of the CIO and Dubinsky of the AFL. The Union further insists that A.D.A. is now a thinly disguised socialist outfit which expects to be the dominating force in American national politics not later than 1956 and to elect Walter Reuther President of the United States.

There may be no truth in this charge of socialism but it is indisputably true that from its inception the labor bosses, particularly those of the CIO, have been influential in the A.D.A.; that the former left-wing New Dealers who have been pushed to the front in the organization have in the past worked hand and glove with these labor bosses; that some of these labor bosses are chock-full of personal political ambition and cherish visions of an American labor party along British lines.

This was made clear a year ago in the great labor campaign against Senator Taft in Ohio. Before the election and when the labor bosses were full of confidence that their united effort, plus their unlimited funds and unrestricted anti-Taft propaganda, would drive Senator Taft, branded by them as "Public Enemy No. 1," out of public life, one of their foremost journalistic spokesmen forecast that the Taft defeat would mean an American labor party in 1952. Of course, the Taft victory dealt a body blow to this idea, but there is no doubt at all that the time it was seriously cherished.

The allegations in The Union that the same labor bosses who ran the campaign against Taft have now taken over the A.D.A. and are planning to use it as the nucleus for the American labor party movement in 1956 is the first sign since the Taft election that the plans of these ambitious labor bosses have by no means been abandoned. On the contrary, they appear more determined than before. The mere fact that after the terrific beating which they took in Ohio last year they could still be working in the same direction is evidence of how deeply rooted the idea is and the extent to which they are prepared to go. If they had beaten Senator Taft instead of having been badly beaten by him, of course, they would have been much further advanced toward the labor party than they are now. As a matter of fact, if they had then won it is difficult to see how they could have been prevented from dominating the whole American political scene.

The demonstration in Ohio that they can be defeated, even when united and fully equipped, has certainly lessened that danger. That is why the list of nineteen senators whom the AFL recently announced it intended to "drive out of public life" in 1952 created slight interest—and no alarm. Threats of that kind no longer seem as serious as they used to be. It is true the labor bosses still exert great influence in the Democratic party management and that Mr. Truman is playing ball with them. But it has been shown that they do not always control the rank and file of the unions, and if the charges of The Union are well based there will be strong rank and file opposition to any "Reuther for President" movement. Perhaps stranger things have happened in our political history than the election of Mr. Reuther as President. Certainly a wide variety of inadequate men have aspired to the presidency—and some have been elected. So, absurd as it now seems, it does not do to sweep the suggestion aside as an utter impossibility. And, at any rate, it is useful to know the facts.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

I wish these hundred-year-olds would get together and evolve a code or something for longevity.

Otherwise a fellow gets all mixed up and doesn't know how to get to be a hundred years old.

Last week I told you about a man who just celebrated his 101st birthday and who attributed his longevity to the fact that he doesn't use sweets, tobacco, coffee and liquor.

So along comes a fellow in Rochester, N. Y., by the name of Edward "Holy Cow" Van Dyne and celebrates his 106th birthday. And what do you think he does?

He smokes six cigars a day, drinks quite a bit of beer and plays a stiff game of cards with his cronies in neighborhood taverns.

He has an I. Q. of 126, which is very high, and was a brewmaster in his younger years. His mother died when he was 108.

The reporters asked him what his advice was for longevity. "Don't worry" was the reply.

Incidentally "Holy Cow" likes his nickname, which as he says, he got in India when he kicked a holy cow in the back and nearly started a riot.

Also, incidentally, Mr. Van Dyne has varicose ulcers of the left leg and receives public welfare.

But, as I said before, his advice is "Don't Worry."

Of course, there is nothing new about this advice.

Your doctor has probably told you the same thing mine has told me, and you can even buy that advice for a nickel in every stationery store—printed on nice fancy paper, to be nailed up over your desk.

But nobody has ever told you or me HOW not to worry.

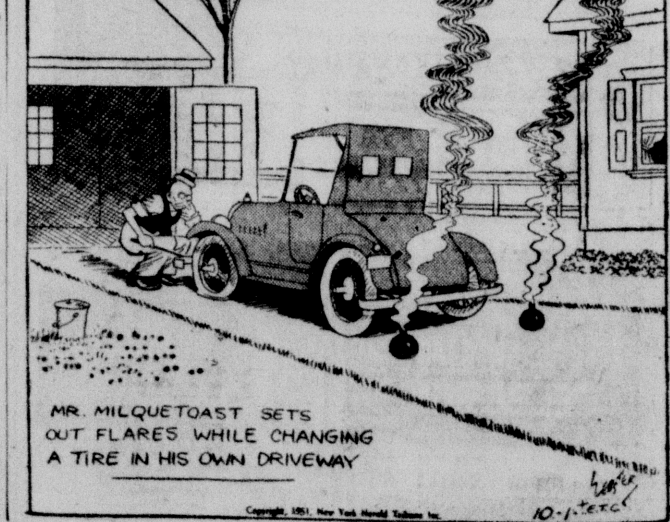

I wish "Holy Cow" would tell us.

If I had ulcers of the leg, or

Jennie Domiano Is Again Head Of Catholic Auxiliary

At the regular meeting of the New Castle Catholic War Veterans Auxiliary, Post 741, election of officers for the coming year was held.

President Jennie Domiano was re-elected for the office of president. The following other officers were elected: first vice president, Frances Corio; second vice president, Elizabeth Amadio; third vice president, Josephine Simuneci; treasurer, Albert Chirumbolo; welfare officer, Anna Alfano; historian, Helen Crudell; officer-of-the-day, Julie Venditto; trustees: Antonietta Bullano, Madelena Calaza, Della Womer, Mary Rose Domiano, Clara Colella and Louise Di Muccio. Reports from the various committees were heard. The Welfare committee announced that a number of boxes of stamps and cards were mailed to Missions. Bowling Charlaty Julia Di Porzio announced that bowling season has started and the auxiliary is bowling every Wednesday evening at nine o'clock.

A Halloween party is being planned for some time in October and Evelyn Williamson is in charge. The time and place will be announced later.

For Thanksgiving an event is being planned and all members were urged to participate in order to make it a success.

President Jennie Domiano reported that the auxiliary had received notice that they were the winners in a recent contest of the 50/50 Welfare Plan held in Philadelphia each week.

The meeting closed with prayer and a delightful lunch was served by the hostesses for the evening, Louise Di Muccio, Josephine De Lillo, Ida De Gilio, Julia Di Porzio, Mary De Paola and Frances De Polis.

The next meeting will be held on October 12 at St. Vitus church hall.

Pittsburgh Grand Jury To Consider Mayor Indictment

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 2.—(INS)—The October grand jury opens deliberations today on the delicate matter of following a recommendation from a special grand jury that it indict Pittsburgh Mayor David L. Lawrence on charges of misdemeanor in office.

The special grand jury heard evidence presented by the state attorney general's office and recommended the move last summer. This special body still is probing the Pittsburgh district political scene and today will continue an inquiry into the activities of a police department's morals squad.

Lawrence, a Democratic party national committeeman, and three other city officials were charged with misdemeanor in connection with coal and street lighting contracts by the probers.

Report Spurt In World Population In Postwar Period

NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 1.—Resurgence of births and declining mortality in large areas of the globe have resulted in a spurt in world population during the postwar period, Metropolitan Life Insurance company statisticians report.

In the United States the annual excess of birth over deaths has averaged better than 15 per 1,000 population, which is above the level immediately following World War I, and about twice the rate during the depression decade of the 1930's.

Trend Similar

The trend has been similar in Canada and New Zealand.

In France, where virtually no population gains had been made for a century, and where as recently as 1940-1944 deaths exceeded births, the rate of natural increase has averaged better than 7 per 1,000 each year since 1946. In Ireland, which had been losing population for a century, the excess of births over deaths has been somewhat more than 3 per 1,000 during the past six years.

The Latin American countries as a group have had average population increases of more than 20 per 1,000, with Puerto Rico having an annual rate of close to 30 per 1,000, or double the rate of natural increase prior to 1930.

Asia Not Included

Although population statistics are not compiled for many countries in Asia—which contains more than one half of the world's people—the information that is available, according to the statisticians, indicates that Asia has the potentials for the largest population increase in the future. In Ceylon the total mortality has been cut by more than one third in the past four years, and the excess of births over deaths has climbed from 18 per 1,000 in 1946 to 28 in 1950. With even less dramatic reductions in the death rate, it is pointed out, the populations of China and India could double in the next 50 to 75 years.

"The rate at which people are being added to the already overpopulated areas of the world constitutes one of the major international problems of the day," the statisticians comment.

Exceptions to the major trend toward accelerated population increase are in England and Wales, Australia, and Scotland, and in a number of European countries, among them Germany, Italy, and Austria.

FAT EGGS

Sometimes fat people think that they are very careful not to eat any fat.

They cut out butter and mayonnaise and olive oil. They are fooled on some things.

A fat man said that in order to reduce he was living on eggs. He did not know that egg yolk has more fat than sweet cream does.

Obesity is dangerous. It is in the same class as cancer and high blood pressure and tuberculosis and some other calamities.

Anyone who begins to take on a little too much fat should get busy right away. There is no time to lose. Get rid of the fat as soon as possible.

The extra fat acts like poison and causes damage which cannot be repaired.

Not enough stretch

Last year's coat won't do this year for fast-growing Sue. The coat just can't be stretched . . . and at today's clothing prices, it's tough to stretch the family budget to cover all the new clothes needed!

But don't blame the people who make clothes, or those who sell them. Blame the dollar . . . the shrinking dollar. Its purchasing power keeps growing smaller and smaller.

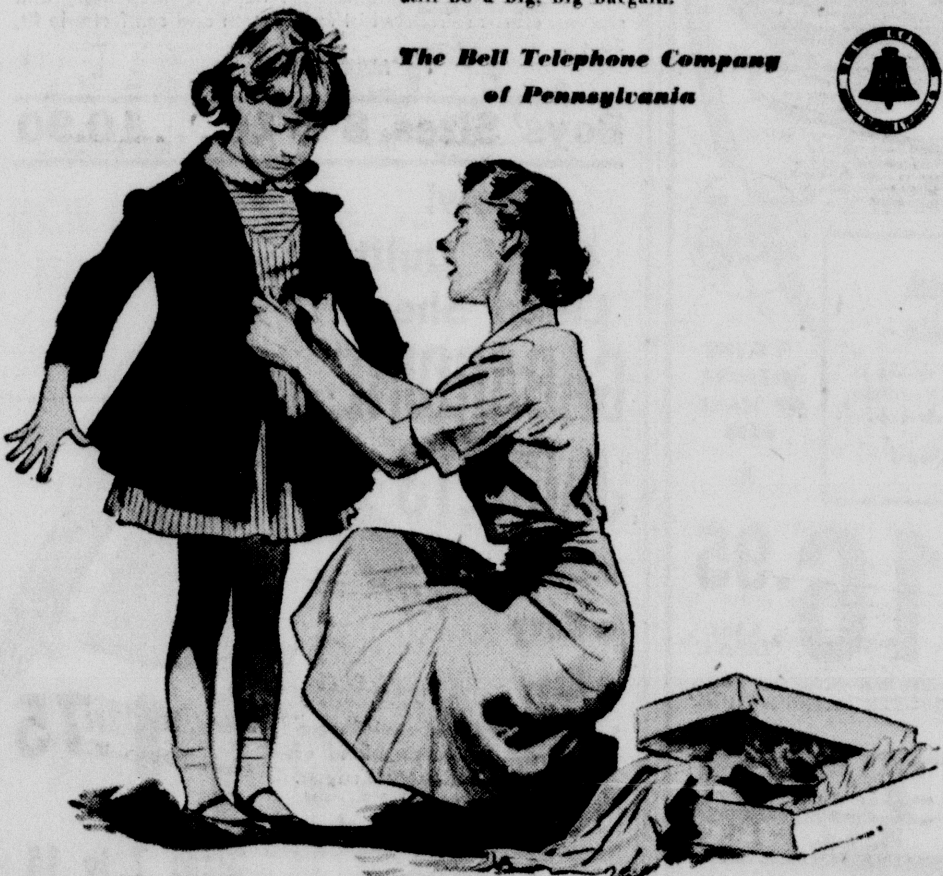

Today's dollar is making things mighty tough for us, too.

The cost of supplies and equipment used in the telephone business is going up and up, just like the cost of supplies and equipment for other businesses . . . and just like the cost of food and household supplies for you.

In spite of all this, we have been able to provide good, low-cost telephone service that continues to grow in value day by day.

Even if it should cost more, telephone service . . . in comparison with other things . . . would still be a big, big bargain.

Allied Forces Are Prepared To Strike Soon

"wish to get on with the war on an all out scale" when the UN army is "poised and prepared to strike."

The broadcast said, however, that there is still hope for peace and added:

"The time taken by the Reds to ponder Gen. Ridgway's proposal to change the conference site to Songhyn indicates that the Communist war lords realize the gravity of the situation."

Tour Front Lines

Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chief of Staff, and Ridgway, UN Supreme Commander, toured the frontlines and talked with field officers immediately after landing in Korea from Japan.

At the same time, Red China's top military man, Gen. Chuh Teh, accused the United States of blocking revival of the long-stalled armistice conference.

The Red Chinese commander in chief called on his army to continue the "struggle for the defense and security of the Motherland."

His utterance came a few hours after radio Peiping broadcast a manifesto summoning all Asian peoples to rise and drive America entirely out of the Orient.

Four-Day Silence

The Red high command maintained a four-day-old silence on Ridgway's bid to move the suspended cease-fire negotiations out of Kaesong and renew them in a nearby no man's land.

Gen. Chuh Teh, second only to President Mao Tze-Tung in China's Communist hierarchy, charged that "American imperialism . . . obstructs the armistice talks."

The Red military chief sounded his warnings in an "order of the day" issued to his millions of troops to mark the second anniversary of the founding of the Peiping regime.

As quoted by the Red radio, Chuh Teh claimed that "American imperialism occupies" Formosa and "has concluded a one-sided treaty with Japan which threatens the peace of the Far East and the whole world."

The anniversary celebration was highlighted, according to radio

Peiping, by a huge warlike parade in the Chinese Communist capital. The broadcast said "thousands" of infantry, cavalry and artillery troops marched in review before Mao Tze-Tung and Chuh Teh.

It added that weapons in the parade included tanks, self-propelled GU and Soviet-type Katusha rocket launchers.

The broadcaster called the implements "the newest models of these weapons in the world."

Can't Invade U.S. While Navy Has Control Of Seas

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—(INS)—Adm. William F. Fechteler, chief of naval operations, declared today that the United States cannot be invaded while the navy has control of the seas.

Fechteler called the Russian fleet of "about 300" submarines the greatest threat to this control. He hinted that the Soviet subs are as good as those with which he said the Germans "pretty nearly" won World War II.

The navy chief added, however, that an enemy submarine fleet might be bottled up by "fast carrier-plane" attacks against the bases for the underwater craft.

Fechteler also maintained in a copyrighted interview with the U. S. News and World Report that American carriers could get to within 50 miles of Russia along the entire east coast of Siberia, around the North Cape of Norway, in the Archangel and Leningrad area, through the Mediterranean and in the Aegean sea around Greece.

The admiral said carriers sent that close to enemy shores could launch planes able to penetrate as much as 550 miles inland. These aircraft, he pointed out, could deal with enemy planes which might in any way "challenge the control of the sea."

Estranged Wife Of Ten-Times Married Man Shoots Him

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Oct. 1.—(INS)—The estranged wife of a 10-times married animal doctor told police today how she pumped three bullets into his back after she found him in his pajamas with an ex-wife.

Police said Mrs. Arthur E. Wharton, who went to the altar with the socially prominent doctor on his second and tenth trips, admitted killing him with his own pistol.

She fired five shots, police said, two of which ripped through a bathroom door where Mrs. Kathryn Zuccarello had barricaded herself, crouched in a bathtub.

Mrs. Zuccarello, 43-year-old nurse who was the fourth Mrs. Wharton, said the current Mrs. Wharton entered the home yesterday and chased her about the house. She told police she locked herself in the bathroom before the shooting occurred.

Homicide detectives said the wife of the 50-year-old Wharton phoned them and, when they arrived, pointed to his crumpled form in the kitchen, saying:

"There he is. I killed him."

Wharton was city veterinarian and former pathology professor at Texas A & M College.

Carl Leathers will be the speaker at the meeting of New Castle Lions club, Tuesday noon, in The Castleton, Mr. Leathers will discuss the possibilities of making a park in the McConnell's Mills area.

Enrollment in adult education classes, sponsored by the New Castle public schools, has gone over the enrollment of one year ago, it is announced by Earle M. Cass, vocational director.

A total of 694 persons have registered in the classes, which include 17 different courses. A total of 40 classes have been formed with 26 teachers being used.

All of these persons, who were not able to take the courses that they wished, will have first opportunity to join these classes in the January registration, it is announced.

Classes are being offered in these seven general fields: Commercial, Clothing, Fine Arts and Crafts, French, English for the Non-English speaking and Trade Extension classes in the plants.

Today's Fashion Flash

By PHILLIS BATTLE

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—(INS)—Walter Florell will go on the gold standard in his definitely un-standard fall hats.

He showed today that he not only believes in gold trimmings and veils, but in gilded fabrics for the bodies of his millinery creations.

Florell's new collection is abundant with tiny gilt evening caps that clutch the head as a glove clutches the hand.

He shows black sailors and cloches that are encased in gold mesh—and rather tailored felts swirling with fine golden glow veiling.

Runnersup to gold in the Florell fashion picture are ostrich feather plumes and colored stones for hatery.

He likes 1952 hats in holiday moods.

Poultrymen Plan Annual Sessions

HARRISBURG, Oct. 1.—(INS)—More than 8000 poultrymen are expected to register Tuesday for the annual three-day meeting of the Northeastern Poultry Producers Council at Harrisburg.

Two cooking competitions are scheduled for the meeting. Thirteen amateur cooks will compete in a chicken broiler cooking contest on outdoor-type grills set up in the arena of the state farm show building. The winners will be named president of the "good chicken club."

In the second contest, 30 cooks will prepare poultry and egg dishes with an electric range going to the winner.

Offers Suggestions To Beneficiaries Of Social Security

If you're a social security beneficiary—under 75—entitled to receive monthly old-age or survivors insurance checks.

You may now earn as much as $50 a month in employment "covered" by the Social Security Act without surrendering your right to that month's social security payment.

If you're a beneficiary 75 or older.

You may now earn whatever the job pays each month, regardless of amount, without giving up your social security check for the months you work.

These modifications of the earlier social security law, which limited payment of monthly benefits to those who earned less than $15 per month in "covered" employment, were included in the 1950 amendments to the Social Security Act.

Mr. Milbourn suggested that social security beneficiaries whose monthly payments had been suspended under the earlier legislation because of their entrance into jobs "covered" by the Social Security Act for earnings of more than $14.99 in a month, arrange to get in touch with their resident social security office if their earnings now are $50 or less in a month or if they are 75 years of age or older. He pointed out that in this way, social security payments can be resumed in appropriate instances.

Mechanized Farms Are Big Production Aid In United States

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—(INS)—Agriculture Secretary Brannan boasts that the efficient mechanized farms of the United States need only one-eighth of the nation's manpower for agriculture.

The secretary said that this figure is far below that of other nations, particularly the Soviet Union, where a far larger percentage of the labor force is needed to produce food and fiber.

Brannan said this nation can be proud of the fact that farmers are geared up to the job of producing more per man-hour than they did before World War II.

He pointed out one-third more food and fiber is being produced this year than in 1940—with fewer people in agriculture and only about the same acreage in cultivation.

Speaking before the Alabama state agricultural mobilization committee at Montgomery, the cabinet member said this year farmers are using 17.5 billion dollars worth of farm machinery and equipment—two and a half times as much as in 1940.

Jobless Claims Display Increase

HARRISBURG, Oct. 1.—(INS)—The bureau of unemployment compensation today reported jobless claims increased 15 per cent to almost 19,000 during the week ended September 14.

Continued claims were up six per cent to 83,600, the bureau reported, and approximately $1,586,000 was paid out to qualified idle workers during the reported week.

Up in Boston, they're telling about the millionaire copper man from Montana who journeyed to Washington to see the sights. His senators dutifully guided him through the National Art Gallery, the Supreme Court, the Smithsonian Institution and such-like, and then proposed, "Now let's go to the Capitol." The copper magnate, glum to this point, brightened perceptibly, and said, "That's a swell idea. I haven't seen a good movie in months."

Arthur Kober sent his mother to a Catskill hotel for a vacation one summer but she didn't cotton to the place. "The food is absolute poison," she reported, "and such small portions." Threat Of Smaller 1952 Winter Wheat Harvest Reported

HARRISBURG, Oct. 1.—(INS)—The threat of a smaller 1952 winter wheat harvest as a result of this year's lack of sufficient rainfall was reported today by the state department of agriculture.

The drought prompted many farmers to reduce fall plantings in some localities, the department explained in its weekly crop report.

The department said: "Only a few sections reported adequate soil moisture, according to the federal-state weather and crop survey for the week ended Tuesday."

"Rainfall averaged less than a quarter-inch for the state, two northern tier areas getting half an inch. The dry week favored harvesting of crops but hindered preparations for planting of fall grains. Freeze damage to date has been light.

"Little wheat was sown in the southeast but elsewhere planting made moderate progress. Some ground was too hard to plow and, in some instances, planting was made in soils too dry for germination of seed. Much barley remains to be planted."

YES MAN Nickname Fits!

says John J. Alexander

Folks around here have nicknamed me Personally YES MANager because I say "yes" to 4 out of 5 who see me for a loan. What they may not know is why I can say "yes" to so many.

For one thing, I—alone—make the decisions here. And since I'm sold on the reliability of people in our community and know they use their loan for a good purpose, it's easy for me to say "yes" promptly.

Now I don't advise unnecessary borrowing. But if extra cash will help you to pay bills, handle medical or dental expenses, meet seasonal needs, or other good purposes—I'd like to say "yes" to you.

Giants And Dodgers Star Playoff Series For NL Flag

Best Of Three Winner To Meet Yanks In Series

Hearn Vs. Branca
Pitching Choices

By CHARLES EINHORN
(L. N. S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—The Giants and the Dodgers, tied for the National League pennant and poised with hate for each other, carry the most astounding race in baseball history into a savage playoff opener today.

The winner of the best-of-three set will go against the New York Yankees, mighty American League conquerors, in the world series. It's an all-New York show all the way. The big town is going nuts.

Hearn Vs. Branca
But no less so, perhaps, than an entire baseball-loving nation which yesterday saw one man—Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson—deny the Giants a pennant they had fought for with the greatest uphill drive in diamond record.

They can still win it. Flushed with victory, hurtling on the momentum of seven straight victories, of 37 wins in their last 44 games, the Giants send a thoroughly-rested Jim Hearn out to face the embattled Brooks at Ebbets Field today.

Jackie Robinson Stars
Who will Brooklyn pitch? Ralph Branca, one of seven guys who pitched yesterday, in a stupendous 14-inning 9 to 8 Donnybrook at Philadelphia, a game first saved by Robinson's catch of a line drive, then won by his home run—and with the Giants' victory over Boston posted maddeningly on the scoreboard throughout.

The Giants beat the Braves 3 to 2 for Larry Jansen's 22nd win despite a furious Boston rally in the ninth.

The biggest crowd of the Phillies' home season, 31,755, saw the Dodgers go pennant-minded against the Quakers for the third windup thriller in three years. In 1949, Brooklyn won over Philadelphia in 10 innings to take the flag. In 1950, Philadelphia won over Brooklyn in 10 innings to take the flag.

Pearson A.C. Wins 13-7 Sandlot Tilt

Pearson A.C. defeated the East Side Crunchers 13-7 Sunday afternoon in sandlot football.

The winners scored in the first period when B. Caverecki carried over from the 10. Pearson's kick blocked an enemy kick to set up the score. King then marked up seven in the second period when King went 15-yards with an intercepted pass.

The deciding marker came when Pace passed 35-yards to Earl Sallie in the last quarter.

The first road to be built by the U.S. government was the old National Pike, Baltimore, Md., to Wheeling, W. Va.

Union Defeats Bessemer For First Time In 20 Years, 30-7

Titans Crush Juniata Under 38 To 13 Score

Westminster college won its biggest scoring spree in 16 years to overpower Juniata college 38-13 Saturday at Huntingdon.

Trailing 13-0 at the end of the first quarter, the Titans unleashed a fast-moving running and passing attack to score twice in each of the remaining quarters.

Quarterback Dick Banick tossed three touchdown passes. Two long runs of 76 and 78 yards by halfbacks Larry Verone and Carl Mantz and a 53 yard drive on six plays gave the Titans their other three titles.

Titans Roar Back

The Titans struck first midway of the second period when Mantz took the ball on a double reverse on his own 22 yard line and dash down the sidelines to score. With two minutes left in the same period Banick uncorked a 32-yard pass to end Bob Sisteck who took the ball on the Juniata 20-yard stripe and went the rest of the way to score. Sisteck's placement was good and the score stood at 13-13 as the half ended.

The Westminster team completely dominated play in the second half as Coach Mel Hertzler cleared the bench of substitutes. Midway of the third period Banick again tossed to Sisteck 11 yards into the end zone and Westminster went ahead 19-13.

Campbell-Verone Score

The Titans fourth marker came five minutes later. A pass completion from mid-field, Banick to Sisteck, brought the ball down to the Indians 36 yard line. Verone picked up 22 yards around end to the 14 yard stripe. Paul Campbell went off tackle to the one yard stripe and bucked center on the next play for the score.

Early in the final period Verone went around end, picked up blockers, and dashed 76 yards to score. The Titans final touchdown came in the fading seconds of the game when Banick tossed eight yards to end Jack Welty in the end zone.

Halfback Orlando Loschiavo figured in both Juniata touchdowns.

He put the Indians into an early lead with a five yard plunge off tackle for a touchdown and later in the same period passed to Dick Young for nine yards in the end zone.

Titans Impressive

Westminster picked up 200 yards on 11 passes completed by Banick out of 20 attempts. The Titans gained another 291 yards in rushing and had a total of 491 net yards gained in the game.

In defeating the Indians Westminster scored the highest number of points made against an opponent since 1935.

Union township high school scored a stunning 30-7 victory over Bessemer Saturday night under the lights at Bessemer in an intra-county Class B contest.

The Scotties racked up single touchdowns in each of the first three quarters and two in the final to give them their first win over the Bessemer high Cementers in 20 years.

The last time a Union team defeated a Bessemer eleven was in 1931, when the Scotties finished on top of a 7-0 score. It was also the first time in the 27 game series that Union has been able to score more than two touchdowns against the perennial County B champions.

A rugged ground attack, spearheaded by the running of fullback Bill Ahrens, paced the Scotties to their win over the injury riddled Bessemer team.

Ahrens drove through center from the seven for the first Union score midway in the first quarter, after leading a drive that had begun at midfield.

Union recovered a Cementer fumble on a punt run back on the 50-yard line to start the drive. Don Penwell made five yards off tackle and Ahrens drove 15-yards through center down to the 35.

French made two more through right tackle. Ahrens three over right guard and then Ahrens went between center and left guard for 11 more and another first down on the 14.

John McLanahan went off tackle to the seven and Ahrens went over for the score.

The Scotties scored again with about three minutes remaining in the second quarter after getting possession of the ball on the Bessemer 34 by way of a very poor kick kick by the Cementers.

Ahrens went through the 11. French went off tackle for the seven, and after a five yard penalty, Ahrens made nine more to the right center, to take the ball down to the 12.

Four plays later Ahrens went over again from the three yard line.

Penalty Hurts

Bessemer reacted to open the second half and Val Livorine made seven yards around left end on the first play from scrimmage. Joe Comasso made seven more around right end on the next play, but the play was called back because of a clipping penalty and the play was called back because of a clipping penalty and the play was called back because of a clipping penalty.

Union took over the ball on its own 33 and drove all the way down the field to score less than a minute before the end of the quarter.

Fred Brogan, freshman quarterback, passed to end Grant Dieter for the score, from the four-yard line. Brogan missed his third straight attempted placement.

Bessemer scored its touchdown early in the fourth quarter. Ralph Cunningham ran the kickoff back to the Bessemer 40 and the last play of the third quarter.

Fullback Phil DeArment passed to end Tom Penwell, who raced to the Union 36 before he was hauled down. Livorine made eight yards through left tackle, but Wayne Henderson was thrown back eight on an attempted pass.

Henderson then hit Phil Lagness with a pass and Lagness went all the way to the three yard line before he was brought down.

Novad Scores

Livorine split the uprights and it was Union 18, Bessemer 7.

The Scotties came back to score after McLanahan intercepted a Bessemer pass on the Bessemer 46. Union drove down the field to score in 10 plays with Ahrens going over from the one.

Bessemer took the kickoff and one the first play from scrimmage Henderson looped a pass that Brogan intercepted on the Bessemer 45 and raced down the right side-line for another touchdown, behind beautiful blocking. Brogan then missed this fifth straight placement attempt.

The clock ran out immediately after the attempted conversion.

Fred Palmer Wins "Battle Of Champions" Match At County Courses Over Weekend

Fred Palmer, Castle Hills champion, won the mythical golf championship of Lawrence county over the weekend by winning the 54-hole "Battle of Champions" match.

In the match played at all three county courses among all three club champions—Palmer scored a 77-75-73 for a total of 225, eight strokes better than Stan Bukowski's second place 78-80-75 for 233. Jack Winter was third with 78-81-83 for 242.

New Castle Little League realized $82.24 from the exhibition, which attracted an estimated 200 persons at the three courses.

Largest gallery of the day—well over 100 persons—followed the group on the final 18 holes at Castle Hills Sunday afternoon. Paul Doran, Tom Doran and Billy Patterson of the Second Ward team were on hand to receive donations for the Little League from the spectators.

Palmer took over the lead on the 18th hole at the New Castle Country Club Saturday afternoon. Bukowski evened it up on No. 1 at Sylvan Heights Sunday morning, but Fred then went ahead again on No. 3 and was never headed the rest of the way.

Drive With Two-Iron
The oldest of the Palmer brothers played the last 36 holes of the 54-hole grind without using a wood. He split his brassie on his tee shot on No. 9 at the Country Club, played with a borrowed brassie the rest of that round, and then used a two-iron to drive with all day Sunday.

Where the winner really won the match was on his shots to the green. He was consistently nearer the pin than the other two and when they started missing their putts, he forged ahead.

Bukowski ran into trouble on the 14th hole at the Country Club Saturday when he hit his ball into a tree for an unplayable lie and then Sunday morning at Sylvan Heights ran into four three-putt greens on the front nine.

Winter took a two-stroke lead on the 14th hole at the Country Club and held onto it on the 15th and 16th only to blow No. 17 and 18 and go one down.

Jack had trouble with his wood shots Saturday and except on 17 and 18 had beautiful recovery shots and nice putts to put him into the lead.

Sunday he started hooking his middle and long irons and failed to recover as nicely on the strange greens as he did on his home course at the Country Club.

Bukowski Early Leader
Bukowski was early leader, coming in with an even part on the tough front nine at the Country Club. He lost the lead on the first hole of the back nine, and except for the first two holes at the Heights course was never again out in front.

All of the golfers had trouble with their putting sometime or other during the long match. Palmer had three-putt greens at the Country Club. Bukowski had troubles at Sylvan Heights, and Jack Winter on the back nine at Sylvan Heights and Castle Hills.

At the halfway mark in the match Palmer was out in front of Winter by three strokes and Bukowski by four.

Much credit for arranging the match must go to Jimmy Dart, who was responsible for getting the parties together and making arrangements for the meeting.

Managers of all three local courses cooperated in the fullest and made a successful match possible.

George Harvey, Penn State's fishing expert, thinks women make good casters because "they don't depend on brute strength." Hundreds of women have been numbered among Harvey's students on the campus and at classes in towns and cities all over the state.

Youngstown General Fireproofing won the Penn-Ohio softball championship Sunday afternoon at Hartman field, knocking off the Teamsters 2-1.

The third and deciding game of the series was won by Petrolini, also the first game winner. The losing pitcher was Joe Embroski.

An orthodox play for one-run game, was standard throughout yesterday's action. Teamsters tallied in the second on two hits, and the G-F team in the fourth and sixth by moving men into scoring position through the hit and sacrifice. There were no extra-base hits in the game.

Youngstown had previously won the Ohio state championship. Score by innings: R. H. E. Teamsters . . . 010 000 000—1 3 2 Youngstown . . . 000 101 000—2 4 0

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Memo to the Giants and Dodgers:

When you finally decide the winner of your ulcer-inducing National league race, you can start worrying all over again.

Poised and waiting to commit world series mayhem at the end of the line are those inevitable Yankees.

And Casey Stengel has nominated Allie Reynolds, the super chief who helps clinch flags with no-hitters, to do the opening game pitching for the bombers as they try to make it three world championships in a row.

Giants-Dodgers Win
The Giants came "home". They clinched at least a tie for the pennant when Larry Jansen won his 22nd game by stopping the Boston Braves, 3 to 2.

Pedigreed Grains
...the foot-friendly kind!

ALL BOSTONIANs are distinguished for fine leathers... the very pick of the pack.

So when Bostonian comes up with a Scotch Grain, you can bet it'll have the finest, friendliest "feel" that ever went into a shoe!

Marshall—Imported Scotch Grain. Plain toe. Rugged—yet soft on the feet.

Stalwart (right)—A Scotch Grain for the roughest weather. Requires no breaking in.

...with the well-crafted Bostonian Look!

If you've an eye for style—these Scotch Grains will light it up! For here is solid masculine styling. No tricks. No "cuteness." But styling sound as the soles you'll walk on.

HERE and THERE • IN SPORTS LAND

DURING YESTERYEAR, outdoor life in Pennsylvania abounded with bears, panthers and other denizens of field and forest, plus Indians on the warpath, hence physicians had to brave danger while answering professional calls. In those days, as at present, little thought was given to danger or weather conditions. Instead, they thought only of the sick, injured or wounded patient, and it is pleasant to learn that the medical societies of Lycoming and Tioga counties, with appropriate ceremonies, recently dedicated a stone near English Center, Pa., in memory of Dr. John Frederick Reinwald who was killed by a panther in 1840, while answering a professional call from Liberty, Lycoming county, across the county line to English Center, Tioga county. Colonel Henry W. Shoemaker, president of the Pennsylvania Historical society, and Judge Charles G. Webb, Wellsboro, were the principal speakers. The dedication took one back in history to events vanished from the Pennsylvania scene.

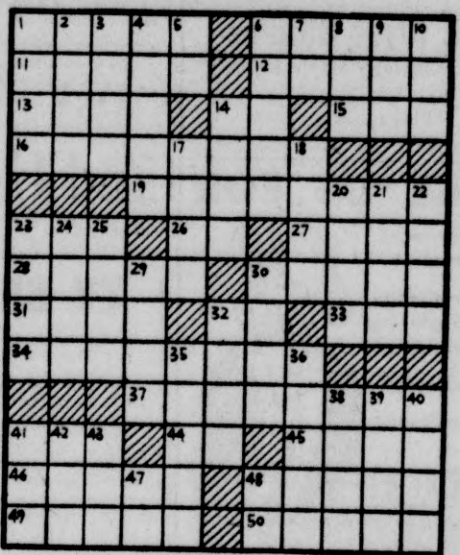

WESTERN RESERVE Fish and Game Protective Association held their annual field day yesterday near Clarksville. . . . Western Pennsylvania Federation of Coon Hunters Field Trial association will hold trials on Route 19, near Leesburg, next Sunday. . . . There are some quail in Lawrence county. They can make a "come-back" only if hunters keep their fingers off a trigger when they see a flock. . . . Lank Warnock is back in circulation after a long siege in a hospital. . . . Jim Brady, the ex-trout worker, steps as sprightly as ever. . . . Dozens of motorists yesterday rode mountain highways to bask in nature's beauty. . . . As in other sports, pre-dope does not always run true to form as was seen in Ne-Ca-Hi's win over Sharon. The Red and Black displayed its fighting ability in the last quarter. . . . Adolf Lang, who spent the summer at Delta, Ont., is expected home soon. He knows Beverly Lake as well as any guide. . . . Frank Johnston, the ex-sheriff and game protector, made fish hustle in several Canadian lakes, recently.

LEE STARR was a caddy at the old Country club at the age of six, and still tees off. . . . Lawrence County Sportsman's Council has asked the state to have the Slippery Rock creek examined to ascertain how well wall-eys will do in it. . . . Kid Warner, former middleweight, who boxed the best of 'em, including Mike Gibbons and George Chip, is residing in California. . . . In his farm days in Butler county, Mayor John Haven drove in sulky races. . . . All of the wrestlers who appeared in exhibitions here recently, paired off against each other the following night in Emlenton. . . . Extinguish all lighted cigarettes while hiking through field and thicket. They are tinder-boxes. Fire destroys valuable woodland and wild life. . . . Buck Strobel is one of the most rabid of baseball fans. . . . Fans who sent in orders for world series games tickets in hope of seeing the Indians play, will receive two 1952 complimentary ducats.

Future 'Cane Opponents Win Over Week End

Four of New Castle's future grid opponents were victors over this last football weekend. Two of three previous opponents were also weekend winners. One opponent, Carrick, has already successfully defended the Triad conference championship.

The Raiders by defeating Brentwood 25-6 and Baldwin 39-0 retained possession of the title. McKeesport, New Castle's next opponent, turned back Clairton 6-0 to eliminate the Bears from further WPAL contention.

Farrell, the stop after McKeesport for New, was rudely surprised at Warren 26-6. They had not been beaten in three games.

Turtle Creek put one in the win column with a 20-6 victory over Rankin, but Erie East continued to lose, looking up to Ashtabula, 18-13.

Alliquippa had no trouble with Ellwood, handling the Wolverines 18-0. Johnstown dropped Erie Academy 23-13. Youngstown East beat Ursuline 25-0.

County Outlook

The B school outlook is even less hopeful. Mars was a loser at Millvale 32-0 and Freedom at Sewickley 13-12, but Zelenople walloped Evans City 27-0. Hope-well tied Darlington 0-0.

Mars is a Friday night opponent of Bessemer, Zelenople a Friday night opponent of Union and Evans City a Friday afternoon opponent of Shenango.

Court House

Honor Two At Court House

M. B. Hogue Given Watch Saturday

Two county employees were honored at the close of business, Saturday noon, when fellow employees gathered in the office of William N. Eakin, County Commissioners' clerk, and presented the two, who are leaving the service of the county, with some appropriate gifts.

Those honored, were Mansford B. Hogue, who has had charge of the county real estate department, and Miss Jane Koszela, clerk in the commissioners' office.

Mr. Hogue is retiring from his duties at the court house after many years of service there, and plans to take things easy in the future. He was given a lovely watch by fellow employees.

Miss Koszela is leaving to be married and will move from the city after her marriage on October 14 to Robert G. Alexander, of Duncan Falls, O. The ceremony will take place in Holy Trinity Polish National Catholic church. She was given a shower of gifts for her new home, including a clothes hamper, waste basket, set of bath room scales, and a handy brush.

ADJUDICATE ESTATE

Following exceptions to the final account of David H. Long, executor in the estate of Sara Dana Falls, who died on December 26, 1950, Judge W. Walter Braham handed down an adjudication in the estate late Friday, apportioning the amounts the court felt were fair and equitable, and approving expenses incurred in settling the estate.

The value of the estate was $78,118.77, with expenses of $14,077.84, leaving a balance for distribution among the heirs, of $64,040.93.

The beneficiaries are: Helen Woodworth, Sue Lowry, Marion McKenzie, Sarah Falls Lundgren, Sarah Wooton, Carl Fromhagen, Clara Long Perry, Ellen Long Elder, George S. Long and David H. Long.

COURT TO ACT IN STATTI CASE

After Eugene Henry Statti was taken to the Allegheny County Workhouse, to serve out the balance of a sentence, Friday, the warden at the workhouse, refused to admit him, claiming that he was entitled to five months off his original sentence for good behavior, and thus had served his allotted sentence of two years, dating from December 7, 1949. However, Statti had been out on ball for six months during the two year period, pending an appeal to the Superior and Supreme courts.

The case will come back before Judge Braham, who expects to hand down an opinion in the matter today.

Capt. Theo. Brenner And Wife Tell Of Conditions Overseas

Capt. and Mrs. Theodore Brenner of the occupation forces in Frankfurt, Germany, have written to relatives here that they expect to be back in the states sometime within the next year.

Dealing with the small victims of the war, the letter contained items not usually found in news releases. It told of some of the youngsters being aggressive as a result of mistreatment, of the pathetic response given by others when kindnesses were extended to them. According to the Brenners, many of the 18 months old babies were wholly unable to stand alone. This was said to be due to the inadequate number of persons to care for the tots, the measure taken in some instances being the application of plaster caps to knees and elbows. With these casts the child must stay in bed, thus relieving the necessity of the care required for toddlers. As a result of the inactivity, the muscles are undeveloped and the children are comparatively helpless.

Other equally appealing incident were recounted by the couple who are affiliated with the Frankfurt hospital and clinic. All D. Ps. must pass through the latter when enroute to western Germany or other western countries.

The Brenners are son-in-law and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cheers, New Castle.

The Orion stars are said to be the most massive and hottest.
